Le Mas de Belle Combe Accommodation

About the Property:

This property is made up of a main house with 4 bedrooms ensuite, and next to that are 6 more bedrooms ensuite, each with their own entrance. In the main house, the living spaces are living room, dining room and kitchen, with an additional larger dining room. These open out to the south-facing terrace with wonderful views.

The house is in a wonderful position high up and facing south over a wide tapestry of Provence countryside to the Luberon mountain. The view is best appreciated from the raised terrace outside the living room and kitchen, where the dining table and relaxation area are set. From here, you also have a lovely view of the village of Gordes on its promontory to the west. Below this terrace are the garden with lawn, olive trees, and the pool area, also with a view. The lovely garden spreads out over the property offering many opportunities for relaxation. For anyone who wants their own space, most of the bedrooms also have their own little patio with table and chairs.

About Chef Bob Waggoner: Chef Bob received his formal training with Michael Roberts at Trumps in Los Angeles from 1981 to 1983, and later in France at a constellation of Michelin-rated restaurants with chefs Jacques Lameloise, Charles Barrier, Pierre Gagnaire, Gerard Boyer and Mark Meneau. At 23, he took on his first chef position at the private club

"Members" in Caracas, Venezuela. Chef Bob Waggoner returned to France at age 24 to become chef of the Hotel de la Poste in Avallon for three years. Then, in 1988 at age 26, in the town of Monetaeu in Burgundy, he became the first American chef to own his own restaurant in France, the much acclaimed Le Monte Cristo. He is one of the few Americans to be Knighted with the "l'Ordre du M rite Agricole" from the Government of France. In 1991, Waggoner was offered the opportunity of Chef de Cuisine with Chef Jean-Pierre Silva, the two-star Michelin, at Le Vieux Moulin in Beaune, France. After 11 years in France, he returned to the States in 1993 to cook at the award-winning Turnberry Isle in Florida, before joining The Wild Boar in Nashville, where he earned the restaurant a coveted AAA Five-Diamond Award and the Grand Award from Wine Spectator. He finally found his way to Charleston where he was Executive Chef of Charleston Grill at Charleston Place for a dozen years. Every year Chef Bob was at the Charleston Grill, it was awarded AAA Four-Diamond and the Mobile Four-Star award, and in 2001-2005 he was nominated four times for The Beard Foundation "Best Chef Southeast" award. Always well regarded as a media-savvy chef, he has won an Emmy for his television show "Off the Menu" with Turner South. He also hosted 2 cooking shows with PBS, U Cook with Chef Bob and Sing for Your Supper with Chef Bob. Currently, he is the owner of "In the Kitchen with Chef Bob Waggoner" where he hosts cooking classes in a relaxed, casual, and sophisticated atmosphere. With his easygoing nature, he can teach anyone the culinary tips and techniques for "how it's done" in the finest restaurants.

Gordes

The closest village to the Villa Le Mas de Belle Combe

The villa is in a peaceful country setting half a mile from the village of Gordes in the Luberon region of Provence.

Gordes is perhaps the most picturesque village in Provence, if not France. Honey-colored houses spiral down from the medieval castle at the top, to form the perfect hill-top village. Views from the village are far and wide over the vineyards and orchards of the Luberon Mountains. Gordes has many restaurants and a lovely Tuesday morning market, as well as basic food stores. In summer, it is lively with cultural events and in the off-season, it is calmer and more relaxed. Just outside Gordes is 'the' lavender photo opportunity – Senanque Abbey.
